HOW TO READ A

Wine Label

Appellation of Origin

Another name for the area where the dominant grapes from the wine were grown. Stating the country, state or county appellation on the wine label signifies that at least 75 percent of the grapes were grown in the named region.

75%

Vintage date

represents the year the grapes were harvested. When the vintage date is given, it must include an appellation of origin smaller than a country. If an American wine gives the state or county as their appellation of origin, 85 percent of the wine must have come from the specified year.

85%

Estate bottled

signifies that 100 percent of the wine was grown from grapes in a viticultural area controlled or owned by the winery. The winery oversees the whole process from crushing the grapes, fermenting, finishing and aging the wine.

100%

HOW TO SPEAK

Wine

- Aroma – scent of the grapes.
- Bouquet – total scent of the wine.
- Lot – product of two or more wines combined.
- Must – unfermented grape juice.
- Nose – combined scent of bouquet and aroma together.
- Treading – crushing grapes by foot.
- Viticultural area – authorized grape-growing area based off soil, elevation, climate, history and other geographic features.

White Wine & Champagne

Hold the glass/flute by its stem, and pinch the stem with your index finger and thumb. Holding it by the bowl can increase the wine's temperature.

How to Hold Your Wine Glass

Red Wine

Contrary to popular belief, hold red wine by the stem. This helps to not overheat the wine.

Savor the summer sweetness of a Porter peach wine or a spicy habanero blend at Blue Coyote. Pair a leisurely lunch with a crisp Chartreuse at Gander Way. Pick a bouquet of lavender while enjoying the fragrant bouquet of a Lavender Hill blend, and taste your way through 13 handcrafted and award-winning wines at Whispering Vines. At Pecan Creek, French-American hybrid grapes steal the show and provide you with a unique tasting experience. Have a little fun at Monkey Island Winery & Cottages while sipping on handcrafted wine, near Grand Lake. The wine selection at Arri'bin Hills Winery will delight your taste buds with surprising flavor twists. Sip one. Sip all. Sip happy!
